ROWDY PUBLIC PARTY
BRINGS COMPLAINT

A letter to Selectmen asked action to curtail public drinking parties on town owned parkland following a day and evening-long party at the Public Landing on Mattapoisett Neck in which about 150 were involved.

Police Chief Duane Tuttle told Selectmen that the department had monitored the affair which he said started as a cookout and developed into a drinking party as it grew. He said that, except for "wheelies" which the police stopped, they found no great problem.

Selectman William Hubbard said that he had also visited the site and found no unusual disturbance. Chief Tuttle told the Selectmen that he could crack down and enforce the law which prohibits public drinking any place in town but in that case "the town would pay dearly".

He said that the last time the police enforced that by-law the vandalism throughout the town increased as mail boxes were smashed among other acts of lawlessness.

Chairman R. William Blasdale expressed concern that public drinking is now seen everywhere in town. Chief Tuttle explained that most of the offenders were "well behaved" young adults who required some area

AUCOOT COVE DISPUTE

A concerned group of 30 Aucoot Cove residents told Selectmen that they are very concerned that Aucoot Cove has been opened up to commercial shellfishing. Mrs. Priscilla Hathaway said that while quahogs are not plentiful in that area they do reproduce naturally in a way that furnishes the residents there a steady supply. Brad Hathaway said that he and his neighbors were very concerned that the area is open to be fished commercially in shallow tidal flats. He said that the area should remain a family shellfish area.

Shellfish Warden Al Pauline steadily maintained that the shoreline there is fallow and needs raking to allow nutrients to be distributed to the seed. According to Pauline the raking action will rejuvenate the shellfish grounds. The residents disputed this heatedly. They said that, because the quahogs are not plentiful, they rake their heads off in the shallow waters. Andrew Alden said that the sand is so loose you can dig up quahogs with your toes. The residents asked Pauline "What guarantee do we have, if your experiment does not work, that we will have any quahogs in the future?" Pauline replied that the Aucoot residents could go to the Shining Tide flats and get their limit. The residents replied that they could see no reason to waste gas to go to Shining Tides when they can now quahog at their front door if the quahogs are not cleaned out by commercial fishing. They said that if raking will produce quahogs, then the area is already raked by family permit holders to the maximum and there is still not enough to supply them so they can see no merit to that theory. They said that if the commercial fishermen clean them out why should the town pay to try to plant the area when planting has failed in the past.

The Selectmen voted to close the Aucoot area from Harbor Beach to the Marion line to commercial fishing (except in 4 feet of water at mean low tide) until the Board of Selectmen can get an opinion returned from the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institute concerning the merit of the shellfish warden's contention concerning the stimulation of shellfish beds.

The Selectmen questioned her on the purpose of the RSVP group and were told that they give the elders an opportunity to do volunteer work at home if physically disabled in the area of office work, sewing, telephoning, survey work, clerical, nutritional program, etc.

The Selectmen asked the Council on Aging to talk the proposition over and bring back a recommendation to them.

RECOGNITION CEREMONY

The Tri-Town Lioness Club held its formal recognition of original members Sunday, June 22, at the Harbor Beach Club.

During the ceremony incoming members were asked to wear blindfolds for about five minutes. The purpose of the blindfolds was to bring them closer to the problems and feelings of the blind. Traditionally, Lionism has done a great deal of work for the blind. They are involved with eye banks and have raised many dollars to further eye research.

The Tri-Town Lionesses are eager to begin their contributions to the communities of Marion, Mattapoisett and Rochester. They welcome any new members from these three towns. The Marion Art Center is pleased to present Neil Simon's comedy "California Suite" on July 18, 19, 25 and 26. The play will be performed and produced by the "Unexpected Company".

They include a reunion of a divorced couple trying to decide which parent has how much of their daughter's time, a middle aged husband attempting to hide a sleep-in visitor from his wife, a British Academy Award nominee and her unusual marriage, and two couples whose vacation has put some unusual strains on their friendship, to say the least.

RAYMOND FLEURENT

"A PROVEN LEADER"

A MESSAGE FROM YOUR CANDIDATE FOR

STATE REPRESENTATIVE

10th Bristol District

TO THE VOTERS OF FAIRHAVEN MATTAPOISETT, MARION, ROCHESTER, ACUSHNET

If elected, my concerns will be the young people, the working people and those who have given so much to so many, our beloved seniors. We have come through a period in which we have made tremendous progress; it will be my responsibility to continue this progress for the good of the people in this district. My background in local and area projects will enable me to have a better knowledge of the problems that we now face. SRPEDD (Southeastern Regional Planning and Economical Development District) is, I believe, here to stay and my many years of experience both as a member and chairman will serve me in good stead on a state level. TAXES which affect all of us will be closely researched by me and I will attempt to lower taxes whenever possible without sacrificing the necessary services so greatly needed by our people. One of the most important problems is to resolve and protect the Mattapoisett River Valley water supply. This is the only drinking water source for the towns of Fairhaven, Mattapoisett, Marion and Rochester.

Fleurent, a native of Fairhaven, was educated in the Fairhaven Schools. He is married to the former Shirley Musakka of Mattapoisett, Ma. He is the father of three children, Karen and Kevin Fleurent of Fairhaven and Mrs. Kathy Tripp of Mattapoisett. He has served in the U.S. Army and attended several service schools. Fleurent has worked most of his life in the construction business; the last 15 years he has filled the capacity of "General Construction Foreman". He is a firm believer of "Home Rule" without state interference. His proven leadership was well recognized in the following:

PLANNING BOARD - FAIRHAVEN - 15 years - Chairman - 4 years Vice Chairman - 7 years.
SOUTHEASTERN REGIONAL PLANNING DISTRICT 12 years Chairman 3 years.
REGIONAL ZONING. LAND USE COMMITTEE - Chairman 4 years.
REGIONAL GROWTH POLICY IN FAIRHAVEN - Chairman 3 years.
FAIRHAVEN HIGHWAY COMMITTEE, ROUTE 195 - Chairman.
COMMITTEE TO RELOCATE HENRY HUTTLESTON ROGERS MONUMENT - Chairman.
PRECINCT #6 - Chairman 14 years.
EAST FAIRHAVEN IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION - President 2 years - Member 22 years
BOARD OF DIRECTORS, KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS - Chairman 5 years - Member 20 years.
COMMITTEE TO FORM FAIRHAVEN BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS - Member.
STUDY COMMITTEE FOR PRECINCT #6 - Sewer Member.
FAIRHAVEN DRAINAGE COMMITTEE - Member.

FAIRHAVEN ROTARY CLUB - Charter Member.
DAV Dr. C.E. Burt Chapter #7 - Life Member.
FAIRHAVEN TOWN MEETING MEMBER - 22 years.
GRAND KNIGHT - DAMIEN COUNCIL 4199 - Mattapoisett

Fleurent was awarded "SRPEDD Distinguished Service Medal" for his outstanding leadership in discharging the duties of his office.

During last year's marathon, 26 local teams raised over $6,000.00 to support Easter Seal programs and services for physically handicapped persons.

According to Jerry Remy, State Softball Marathon Chairman, event organizers are hoping to double that amount. Any softball team is invited to play - league, women's or pick-up teams. There is an entrance fee which entitles the team to 2 cases of Miller beer. Teams raising $200.00 will receive T-Shirts and all participating teams will receive trophies.

Sponsoring the event is the New Bedford - Acushnet Cooperative Bank and WBSM.

For further information on the marathon, contact the Easter Seal Society - 996-0712 or 996-8715.

Marion Nurses

MVNA FUND DRIVE SET FOR AUGUST 4th

Monday, August 4th, is the day set for the annual Marion Visiting Nurse Association Fund Drive.

The MVNA has been serving the community since 1914 as its non-profit, certified provider of professional high quality nursing care in the home. Other services available through the agency are home-health aides, physical therapy, occupational therapy, speech therapy, and social services. An annual Blood Bressure Clinic, monthly Well-Child conferences, and Health Counseling session for senior citizens are also offered by the MVNA. Also, for the first time this year, the MVNA sponsored a free Blood Pressure Clinic at their office at Sippican School during Town Meeting.

During 1979 there were 3,901 visits made; 2,404 visits have already been made for the first six months of this year. These services are available to all residents of Marion and Rochester, regardless of ability to pay.

Mrs. Edna C. Archer, R.N., continues as administrator of the staff of the MVNA, assisted by Mrs. Mary J. Gallini, R.N., Mrs. Shirley Hartley, R.N., and Mrs. Paula Comacho, R.N.

Volunteers will be calling on Marion residents on August 4th. As state health demands and regulations have increased, so have costs risen tremendously. The annual Rummage Sale and the sale of Tide Tables help defray these costs, but continuing success of your VNA in providing this quality health care depends on community support.

REPLICA OF AMERICA'S OLDEST WOOD-FRAME HOUSE ON BOSTON COMMON

Boston's five-month-long 350th birthday party focuses this summer on Boston Common where a week-long celebration of seventeenth-century arts and crafts will kick off on Saturday, July 19, with the raising of a replica of the oldest standing wood-frame structure in North America, the original section of the Fairbanks House, built in Dedham, Mass. in 1636.

Craftsmen, masters in seventeenth-century timber-frame technology, have constructed the frame in Canaan, N.H., using only tools and methods of that era and testing their shaping and joinery work in a trial raising this month. The shaped timber for the frame will be transported to Boston, and the frame will be raised within a 17-foot-high stockade fence, similar to the one that surrounds Plimoth Plantation, constructed on the Common to enclose the seventeenth-century arts and crafts exhibits during Festival week.

One wall of the house will be completed and daily demonstrations are planned so visitors can view pit sawing, hewing, joinery, wattle 'n daubing (seventeenth-century insulation), clapboarding and thatching. An early American garden will adjoin the house. Demonstrators will be garbed in seventeenth-century dress and speak in the dialect of that period.

The house replica will remain on Boston Common throughout July, then will be disassembled and stored until February 1982 when it will become part of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts exhibit "New England Begins: The Seventeenth-Century".

The project has been in the planning stages for months and is the joint effort of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts and the Society for the Preservation of New England Antiquities, with the collaboration of Boston University and Plimoth Plantation. Appropriately, because the house frame is wood, lumbermen throughout the Northeast, under the leadership of committee chairman John Furman, president, Furman Lumber, Inc., Boston, raised $60,000 necessary for the project in a little more than two months.

2 Months with Vigilant

The U.S. Coast Guard Cutter Vigilant, homeported at State Pier in New Bedford, has just completed a two-month deployment in southern waters. May was spent dealing with the "Freedom Flotilla" exodus of refugees from Cuba. Five days of training at the Mayport, Florida, Naval Station then preceded three weeks at the U.S. Navy Base at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, undergoing refresher training.

Vigilant departed New Bedford on May 1 and arrived at Key West, Florida, the primary Port-of-Entry for refugees leaving Cuba, on the 5th. She spent the next 3 1/2 weeks carrying out a variety of search and rescue duties, including taking refugees off unsafe watercraft of all types, towing numerous disabled vessels, and assisting others in navigating the 110 miles of the straits of Florida that separate Key West and the exit port of Mariel, Cuba. In the process she boarded 17 boats and dealt with 28 search-and-rescue cases.

In addition to search and rescue, following President Carter's executive order prohibiting the ferrying of refugees without government permission, Vigilant assisted in preventing southbound boats from reaching Mariel. Combined efforts led to a significant depletion of boats available for illegal transfer of refugees. Vigilant cooperated with a total of ten other medium and high endurance Coast Guard Cutters during the operation, including the Vigorous, a sister ship homeported in New London, Connecticut. All the Cutters were under the direction of CGC Dallas of New York. Dallas also coordinated Coast Guard cooperation with several U.S. Navy ships that participated.

During her deployment Vigilant was accompanied by a helicopter and crew from Coast Guard Air Station Cape Cod, located at Otis Air Force Base. The helicopter flew 34 separate times on various missions. Vigilant's two smallboats were also used extensively, often at night, to connect tows, repair engines, transfer refugees, and investigate other problems.

After being detached from the refugee operation, and following the week of preparation in Mayport, Vigilant proceeded to refresher training at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. After a thorough inspection, extensive training and rigorous testing, Vigilant achieved satisfactory scores in all areas, including nuclear defense, gunnery, damage control, precision navigation, towing and intelligence reporting. An overall evaluation of excellent was attained. Vigilant's crew eagerly anticipated their return to New Bed-

"Steering a Trick"

STEERING MY FIRST "TRICK AT SEA"

An account found in an old writing book from the attic of Jonathan H. Holmes, Shipbuilder. Author unknown. The book was given by Lydia Walker to Brad Hathaway and loaned to us.

The length of time a sailor stands at the wheel of a ship, and steers the vessel by the compass in the direction given him by the officer of the deck, is called, in sea Parlance, "steering a trick" and requires in times of danger, the best qualities of sea-

Although I was a Cape born boy and lived the first fifteen years of my life on its shore, mingling with sailors, accustomed to vessels and boats, and practically experienced in the management of them in ordinary times, and could steer a whaleboat in a "pretty stiff breeze" with an oar, or a rudder, and did not hesitate in any passages by Packet to and from the city in later years to take "the Tiller", while the Captain went below for his "nipper", or to get his meals after the passengers had finished theirs, even if the breeze across the bay was a good "whole sail blow" - realizing the pride of feeling juveniles usually experience while "holding the ribbons" of a spanking four horse team, while coachy sits by enjoying his pipe, still I should have felt reluctant to have taken the wheel of a ship in mid-ocean under "close reefs" and in a squall, had I been allowed time to consider it. The circumstances under which I found myself in such a position; nolens volens*, were as follows -

I was a passenger on board of ship, homeward bound from the Mediterranean in the winter of 1843, ladened with a cargo of fruit for Boston. From the time we had left the Straits of Gibraltar, we had experienced a succession of northerly and westerly gales, which had forced us into a more southern course than is usually taken by the fruit traders, and after thirty days hard beating, we found ourselves in the eastern edge of the Gulf Stream in about the latitude of Cape Hatteras. The wind was still blowing fresh from the north, although the mariner's sky was clear and sun warm, which was an enjoyment we had received but little of up to this time. Still the weather was treacherous, and in keeping with the sailors' experiences of those latitudes. We were crowding all sail on our ship, and driving her all she would bear "to make the northern" for we were "bound to be first fruit in port if the spars stood", as the Captain expressed his desire to make a short passage. Later in the day the sky became overcast, and presented that alternating thick heavy clouds, with the clear azure blue, peculiar to the Gulf and Hatteras. To the experienced eye of the sailor this betokened gusty squalls of wind and rain, and uncertain weather, and such proved to be our experiences from about 10 o'clock in the morning up to 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

The Captain had scarcely left the deck for the day, giving but a few minutes to his

"Our work is that of a service organization guided by federal agencies that are funded by the government and also by member communities," said Alex Zaleski, executive director of SRPEDD. "Member communities can best use SPREDD if they know what it is and what it does."

Information gathered during the course of the research project is designed to give SRPEDD officials ideas on the formulation of future plans for member communities.

"In keeping with SPREDD's policy, it will be a course that will allow member communities every opportunity to receive assistance when they need it."

His performance is sponsored by the Kodaly Center of America (KCA), which is holding its summer institute at SMU in conjunction with Cedardell, the University's summer music festival.

Heiss, a faculty member at the New England Conservatory, has entitled his SMU concert "Old Wine in New Bottles". Joining him in the performance will be his two children, pianist Laura (age 8) and percussionist Frank (age 10), and soprano Ellen Vickers. Their program will include Stravinsky's "Owl and the Pussycat" and works by Crumb, Heiss, and Charles Ives.

A well-known soloist and composer, Heiss has received numerous grants and commissions for original compositions. Considered to be one of the giants of contemporary flute performers, he has explored hitherto-unsuspected capabilities of the flute in his performances and compositions. After his SMU appearance, Heiss will go to Colorado for a festival of his own compositions.

In addition to the Thursday evening concert, Heiss will give a seminar for KCA postgraduate students on Wednesday and Thursday, July 16 and 17, from 3 to 5 p.m. in the Recital Hall. The seminars are open to the public at a small charge.

"Mr. Heiss' concert here last summer was an outstanding success," says Denise Bacon, KCA director. "Those who attended were delighted with his lively, witty, and informal discussion-recital format."

Admission will be charged to the evening concert, and tickets will be available at the door. Parking is in lots 10 and 11.

RENAISSANCE FAIRE

Come try your skill on the Renaissance game of Jacob's Ladder at the New England Renaissance Faire which is taking place in Myles Standish State Forest in Plymouth weekends through July 20.

Jacob's Ladder is run by the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce. Local non-profit groups are manning games in return for keeping the proceeds for their own fund-raising purposes.

The games are adaptations of authentic Renaissance games and have teasing titles like Lord on a Log and Konk the King. Winners of the games receive a Master of Arms certificate and top winners

THANKSGIVING NOVENA TO ST. JUDE

Oh Holy St. Jude, Apostle and Martyr, great in virtue and rich in miracles, near kinsman of Jesus Christ, faithful intercessor of all who invoke your special patronage in time of need, to you I have recourse from the depth of my heart and humbly beg to whom God has given such great power to come to my assistance. Help me in my present and urgent petition. In return, I promise to make your name known, and cause you to be involved. Say three Our Fathers, three Hail Marys and Glories for 9 consecutive days. Publication must be promised. St. Jude pray for us all who invoke your aid. Amen. This Novena has never been known to fail. I have had my request granted. Publication promised.

KEEP YOUR COOL

While all the power-driven accessories on your car affect fuel efficiency, most of them are beyond your control. Air conditioning is the exception. You wouldn't have paid for it if you didn't want to use it. But use it sparingly, at a moderate temperature setting.

At speeds between 30 and 50 m.p.h., use of air conditioning can reduce gasoline mileage by 10% to 12%. Idling with the air conditioner on is even more costly. But remember this, too: driving at highway speeds with the windows open also costs you extra fuel.

Open windows at high speeds increase wind resistance and cause drag. Closed windows make the use of the "laminar flow" for which the automobile's contour was designed.

N.B. Gas Seeks Sale

Commonwealth Gas Company and New Bedford Gas and Edison Light Company have jointly filed a petition on July 9 with the Massachusetts Department of Public Utilities (DPU) requesting approval for sale of the gas assets of New Bedford Gas and Edison Light Company to Commonwealth Gas Company, according to R. F. MacDonald, vice president of customer services, New Bedford Gas and Edison Light Company.

Commonwealth Gas Company, headquartered in Southborough, and New Bedford Gas and Edison Light Company, located in New Bedford, are subsidiaries of New England Gas and Electric Association (NEGEA), a public utility holding company.

If the DPU approves the transaction, it will result in specialized areas of operation and expertise for the two companies.

"The energy field has become so complex, that it will be to the advantage of our system and to our customers to have specialized management for gas operations and electric operations," said MacDonald at a press conference held on July 10 at New Bedford Gas and Edison Light Company to announce the filing of the petition.

Aside from the centralization of gas operations in Southborough, services and facilities will remain essentially the same.

Customers will still be dealing with the same people in most cases. District offices will remain in New Bedford and Plymouth and bill payment centers will be in the same locations. Normal and 24-hour service will continue to be handled in the same way.

"In fact, service to customers in the New Bedford area should be improved during periods of heavy service requests and during emergencies. Personnel from Commonwealth Gas Company can be quickly shifted to meet customer needs," said MacDonald.

Customers will receive a separate bill for gas and electricity, although there will be only one meter reader. The bills will come in the same envelope so there will be no increased cost in mailing and meter reading.

The production is a highlight of Cedardell' SMU's Summer Music Institute, which annually draws talented musicians from around the country for study and rehearsal here, providing a unique opportunity for area music-lovers to enjoy live performances.

The Marriage of Figaro, which will be presented at 8:00 p.m. in the SMU Auditorium, is an Italian-language opera that will be sung in English for the benefit of the English-speaking audience. The opera will have a multi-cast of outstanding performers who will alternately fill each leading role. This will allow as many students as possible to gain actual stage experience.

Set in a 17th-century Spanish castle, The Marriage of Figaro is the story of two lovers, Figaro and Susanna, whose intended marriage is threatened by suspicion of infidelity. First staged in Vienna in 1786, the opera is a spoof of the aristocracy and a sequel to The Barber of Seville by French dramatist Beaumarchais. The Marriage of Figaro has long been acclaimed by opera-lovers for its delightful music, including the famous Figaro overture.

Ticket information and reservations may be obtained by calling 999-8548.

September 6 (with rain dates of July 20 and September 7). Although the organization meets in Taunton, the Flea Markets are held on South Main Street in Berkley, across from the Berkley Common. This annual event was originated in 1973 by Phyllis and Roland Gooch who are Past Matron and Past Patron of the Chapter. This year's chairman is Worthy Matron, Virginia Sweeney, Past Matron of Berkley. (This will be her 4th and 5th chairmanship.) She has stated that many booth holders from previous years have already confirmed their 10' x 10' space. Last year's antique and flea market had 60 dealers including local craftsmen. As in previous years, the Chapter will offer a snack bar with hot dogs, hamburgers, sweets, soft drinks and coffee for sale during the day. Gerona M. Holmes, Past Matron, is chairman of this booth. Coffee and doughnuts will be sold for the benefit of boothholders during set-up time which is 8 a.m. Alice Burton is in charge of the Rose Croix Chapter booth and will be assisted by Chapter members. Members of the Chapter should contact Miss Burton or Mrs. Sweeney if they have donations for this booth. This event draws many professional antique dealers as well as fine craftsmen from the area. Those interested in obtaining a space can contact Mrs. Virginia Sweeney, 30 Jerome Street, Berkley, MA. 02780.
